

Treasurer Lewkowitz Switches D. C. Dollars To An Unprecedented Single Bank Account

By DON GRIERSON

Daly City Treasurer Joseph Lewkowitz, in a move unprecedented in North Peninsula cities, has placed all the city's checking deposits in a single bank.

Describing the action as "a money-saving measure for the city," Lewkowitz said increased revenues from interest on term savings resulting from the change are expected to total "in the neighborhood of $20,000" per year, and the city will also save money through simplified bookkeeping.

First National Bank of Daly

City has been chosen to handle all the checking deposits, which reportedly total $200,000 per month.

In a letter addressed to officials of three other Daly City banks which have shared the city's checking business in the past, Lewkowitz said this week "a review of the city's records by the finance director has revealed we would operate more efficiently if the number of checking accounts were reduced."

"After careful consideration, I have decided to consolidate the various city checking accounts into one general account, and this account will be carried at the First National Bank of Daly City for a minimum period of two years," the letter states.

"This will enable the city to make better use of its available money by investing in time deposits, and will eliminate inefficiencies and allow for better cash control."

Officials at the three banks affected by the move, Crocker Citizen's Bank and the two Daly City branches of the Bank of America, refused to comment on the matter, "because issuing a statement would conflict with ethics of the profession."

However, reliable sources have indicated officials at Bank of America, where a large portion of the city's checking business has been done for the past six years, have "objected heatedly" to the move.

Lewkowitz, in an interview Friday, gave no reason for choosing First National as the city's sole checking depository, other than to state the bank is "a local business."

The treasurer said location of the city's general account will be "re-evaluated" when the minimum two-year period is up, and some method of rotating the account "might be discussed."

He indicated in the interview, however, that it is "unlikely the account will be shifted to another bank unless the arrangement with First National proves unsatisfactory."

"This method of handling checking accounts is utilized by a number of cities," he said, "and has proved most satisfactory. It is common practice, and is considered to be the best method of operation."

He cited Santa Maria as one city where a single checking account is utilized.

A check with city managers Friday revealed that no other North Peninsula city limits its checking business to one bank.

South San Francisco uses two banks, and the checking accounts of San Bruno, Pacifica, and Brisbane are all divided between three banks.

Lewkowitz said, "Every effort will be made to keep the city's time deposits distributed evenly throughout the banking community and also to keep all available cash invested."

The bulk of the city's time deposits are presently with the two branches of the Bank of America in Daly City, he said.

In the letter to the bankers, Lewkowitz said, "I realize you will be losing a checking account with a sizeable balance, but I'm sure you will realize this new procedure is in the best interest of the people of Daly City."

136 Families Are Assisted In Daly City

Volunteer workers have helped provide food and gifts for 136 needy families and 479 children in Daly City this Christmas season, Chamber of Commerce Mgr. Pete Markovich said today.

Markovich served as coordinator for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and 23 civic and religious organizations participating in the drive this year.

Youngsters directed by the Daly City Recreation Department collected 10,021 cans of food in the last 10 days, providing 10 cans of food for each member of the 136 families.

Daly City merchants also donated food in wholesale lots.

Through the efforts of Daly City firemen, Westmoor High School students and other volunteers, each of the 479 children will receive "at least one major toy" and two other toys for Christmas.

Firemen repaired 17 bicycles, five tricycles and 20 other wheel toys. The Westmoor students also worked on wheel toys.

One Daly City resident, Al Saltzman, contributed 75 cases of salad dressing, and the Daly City-Colma Lions were the largest single contributor among organizations this year, giving $500, which was enough to provide for 10 families.

Markovich said 60 station wagons and trucks were busy delivering the goods Friday night, and 11 trucks are delivering turkeys today.

"Response to the program this year has been splendid," Markovich said, "and I would like to thank everyone concerned for an excellent community effort."

Judge Hupf Seated

Daly City's Paul Hupf celebrated his 45th birthday last week in a most unusual way — he was sworn in as North San Mateo County's third municipal judge.

The ceremonies were held before an overflow crowd of more than 200 persons at North County Municipal Court in South San Francisco.

About 100 of the guests — including judges, law enforcement officials, councilmen, supervisors, fellow attorneys — had to stand outside the courthouse during the 30-minute swearing in.

Oral tributes to the popular attorney were many, including a statement from presiding Superior Court Judge Melvin Cohn that Hupf was "one of the most competent and capable attorneys I've known in these parts."

Hupf had served as city attorney of Daly City since 1957, when he replaced Frank Blum, who had been appointed a superior court judge. Prior to that, Hupf had been a city councilman for two years.

Among family members present in the jury box to help the judge celebrate both his birthday and his important new job were daughters Christine, 17, and Cathy, 15, wife, Virginia, and his 77-year-old mother, Mary Hupf, who had flown yesterday from Buffalo, N.Y., to be present for the ceremonies.

Superior Judge Blum conducted the swearing-in ceremonies, while fellow Municipal Judge Charles Becker presided, with the third north county municipal jurist, Jose De Larios, rounding out the installation group.

Monignor Richard Power of Our Lady of Mercy Church in Daly City delivered the invocation.

Yesterday was a big day in the life of former City Attorney Hupf. Today is even a bigger one. He reports to work as Judge Hupf.

As Judge Becker said, "The next time you hear from Judge Hupf in this room, it'll be to hear him say, 'Yes or five days.'"

San Bruno Rec Panel Meet Set

A Backglance 'Airport City' Keeps Pace With Others

By DON GRIERSON

San Bruno, the "airport city," has kept pace with other progressive San Mateo County municipalities during 1966, a year that saw preliminary development of plans which will shape the city's progress during the next decade.

City planners have approved plans for two giant shopping centers, at least one of which is expected to be completed within a few years, and the Chamber of Commerce, under the dynamic management of Director Kick King, has spearheaded a sweeping redevelopment plan for the downtown area.

The San Francisco International Airport is literally bursting at the seams with activity, and the city government, headed by Mayor Karney Barberian, matching the growth rate of the area with civic improvements.

San Bruno has been "laying away" funds for a city hall expansion for several years, and City Manager Gerald Verger said this week this project is at last "about to become a reality."

State and federal civil defense authorities approved the addition of a civil defense emergency operating center this week, and preliminary plans contain provisions for federal participation in the project.

Under the approved plans, the federal government will contribute 50 per cent of the project cost up to $200,000, Verger said.

Major projects completed during the year included the annual street resurfacing program. The city spent $70,000 from budgeted appropriations on street repair.

The city ordered a $75,000 "snorkel truck" for the fire department during the year. Considering the most advanced fire-fighting machinery available, this new equipment will be paid for in cash from established reserves upon delivery in 1967.

A great deal of attention is being given to aesthetics of the city, and beautification programs have gained strong public support.

All the eastern boundary of Huntington Avenue from San Felipe to Forest Lane has been planted with shrubbery, and a triangular plot owned by Southern Pacific at the intersection of First, San Mateo and San Bruno Avenues, a major pint of entry to the downtown area, has been landscaped.

The city also purchased right of way and cleared a building from Navy property at the intersection of Sneath Lane and El Camino Real for installation of traffic signals and "channelization" of the streets.

But probably the most important progress in San Bruno during the past 12 months has been the laying of plans for the future.

The Tanforan Race Track site, vacant since the track burned in 1962, has been prepared for shopping center use, though no business has located on the 90-acre portion within San Bruno's city limits.

Streets, sewers, water mains and fire hydrants have been installed by the Tavares Corp., developers of the project.

Almost directly across El Camino Real from the Tanforan site is another site of approximately 100 acres which has also been approved for commercial development. However, this site, which belongs to Consolidated Lands Corp., is not expected to be fully developed for at least six years.

Downtown merchants have tentatively agreed to undertake the vast redevelopment plan proposed by the chamber of commerce manager and planning consultants, and are now studying means of financing the project, which will cost an estimated $3-$5 million, and require five to ten years for completion.

Coast Guard, Marin Units Hunt 2 Boys

Daly City Youth Missing On Petaluma Boat Trip

Marin County and Coast Guard units yesterday continued the search for Jack Moynihan, 16-year-old Daly City youth, reported missing on an outboard motor boat ride from a Marin County ramp at Black Point to Petaluma with a 15-year-old Novato friend, Peter Bearsh.

A Marin County Sheriff's Department craft, a Coast Guard helicopter and the 82-foot cutter, Pt. Chico, were patrolling San Pablo Bay and the Petaluma River channel, sloughs and mudflats.

Moynihan, 26 Mayfield Avenue, Daly City, and Bearsh left the Black Point ramp in the small boat, which was powered by a 7½-horsepower motor, at 11 a.m. Monday, bound for a trip to Petaluma.

Marin sheriff's officials estimated the trip should have taken not much more than an hour. They said it is 11 miles to Petaluma from that point.

The two youngsters were due back by 5 p.m. and Larry Bearsh, Peter's father and owner of the craft, returned at that time to meet them. When they failed to appear on time, Bearsh called Marin and Coast Guard officials.

The Coast Guard immediately started harbor checks. Near 7 p.m., the Marin reserves launched two boats that they kept going throughout the night with negative results.

The parents of the missing pair maintained a vigil, awaiting word from searchers, at the Miramonte water ski school, base of operations for the Marin reserve crewmen.

There was the possibility, however, of getting sidetracked in the many sloughs in the area. The water, spokesman said, was not rough, although at extremely low tide, both last night and this morning.

A number of mudflats are to be found near the shoreline, but none so far that the pair could not have made firm ground had they been caught high and dry when the tide went out.

New Freight Rates Coming For Pacifica

Stan Farber, chairman of the Freight Rate Study Committee, Pacifica Chamber of Commerce, announced today that information was received in the chamber office that new freight rates now include Washington, Oregon and Utah.

This new rate stems from the recent appearance before the Interstate Freight Carriers Association, Reno, Nevada, of Stan Farber, Bernie Lake and Mayor Minshew on December 1. The rate will become effective about March 15.

Any freight shipped to, or received from, the above states will cost one rate from the point of origin to Pacifica, rather than the double rate that previously existed.

Farber has been very pleased with the results of his study committee and will continue to work for lower freight rates in the city. He feels that eventually this saving in freight rates could be passed on to the consumer.

Pedestrian Is Hit by Auto

Diane Malloy, 655 Commercial Avenue, was injured slightly when a car driven by a Sacramento man struck her at the intersection of Commercial and Chestnut Way in South San Francisco.

Police said Jeffrey Reynolds Sr., 928 Granada Way, Sacramento, claimed oncoming headlights blinded him as he made a left turn off of Chestnut. The victim was walking east on Commercial.

2-Car Crash Injures 3 In S.S.F.

Three people were injured and two cars badly damaged in South San Francisco Saturday when a moving vehicle collided with a parked car.

A young and pregnant housewife was among the victims, police said.

Connie Klatt, 17, 890 Memorial Drive, was taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital with a laceration over the right eye, a possibly fractured right arm, and other possible injuries. She was transferred to Kaiser's Geary Street Hospital.

Her husband, Reginald, 20, was also rushed to that hospital, but was not admitted.

A passenger in their car, David McDaniel, 424 Larch Avenue, was rushed to Peninsula Hospital with a fracture of the right leg. He is reported in "good" condition today.

A fourth passenger, not identified in the police report, was injured.

Burglary Suspects

Patrolman Nabs Canadian Trio

Three Canadians, all armed but offering no resistance when rounded up after a foot chase by a Daly City patrolman, have been accused of burglarizing at least 15 apartments in a single building on Christmas Day.

John T. Dolan, 24, Joseph A. Curran, and John Hesalnick, 23, all of Toronto, were arrested by Patrolman Thomas Barber, with the aid of a special officer, Tony Goodman, after they were seen running from an apartment at 30 Poncetta Drive.

Barber had responded to a prowler call to the apartments at 4:45 a.m. As he drove up he saw the three suspects run from the building. He ordered them to halt. They did not.

Instead, they sprinted off in different directions.

Barner began the chase, then. He cornered one suspect and turned him over to Goodman, who was standing by to help. He then chased another of the men for several hundred yards, finally trapping him. He, too, was left with Goodman.

The third suspect was spotted beneath an automobile nearby. Daly City police said all three were armed. They offered no resistance.

At latest tally, approximately 15 apartments appear to have been burglarized, police said. None of the occupants were home at the time.

Bail was set by Judge Charles Becker of the Northern Judicial District at $5,000 apiece on each count.

Gunmen Rob Bread Store In S.S.F.

Two dark complected gunmen robbed a "day-old bread" retail store of $300 in South San Francisco on Christmas Eve.

The pair appeared in the Gro-wheat Baking Company shop at 206 Spruce Avenue at 2 p.m. Saturday. Mgr. Vira Phillips told police.

Waiting until all other customers had left, the men finished paying for cookies, and then pulled out a blue revolver.

"This is a holdup," they said, scooping the $300 in bills from the cash drawer. She said the couple then walked out the front door and disappeared as she called police.

Another witness said the two men climbed into a bright red domestic sportscar, and drove away.

The store manager told police both men were dark of skin, hair and eyes, were about 20 to 23 years old, stood five feet nine or ten inches tall, and of average weight.

No Tiki Hut Dance: Coast Teens Are Seeking Girls

There will be no Tiki Hut Dance this Friday evening, December 30. The event, which was to be held at the Tiki Hut, will be open in the afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m. for drop-in activities. Music, ping-pong, pool, and folk singing will be included.

This may provide an excellent opportunity for those people interested in joining Teen Council to meet and plan for next year's activities, leaders feel.

Those teens interested in working with the recreation department in providing activities for Pacifica teens are being urged to fill out applications for Teen Council. These may be obtained from the Teen Advisor, Gary Ware at Oddstad Center any day this week.

Where are all the girls? The Oceana Co-Rec held last Wednesday evening featured the 'Forgotten Society' and about 35 boys. Girls are now being invited to attend the play, volleyball, badminton, and listen to the bands. The event is held every Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Oceana Gym and is sponsored by the Pacifica Ten Club.

J-Teen Club meetings will resume after the holiday season. Meetings are held on the following days: Tuesday; Ortega, Linda Mar (cancelled) Wednesday; Vallejo, Cabrillo Friday; Sharp Park.

Starting the week of January 16 Vallejo will meet on Monday instead of Wednesday; Linda Mar group has been dropped due to a lack of attendance. Those Linda Mar J-Teens are encouraged to attend the Cabrillo meeting on Wednesday.

S.S.F. Servicemen Come Home for the Holidays

Lauryn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Morris, 219 Verano Drive, traveled the furthest distance, presently being stationed at Ft. Rucker, Ala., attending Helicopter Maintenance School.

Craig Finlayson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Finlayson, 214 Verano Drive, traveled from Ft. Lewis, Wash., and is still in basic training and will later be assigned to the Air Force Police.

Charles Robertson, the son of the late Anita Robertson of the South San Francisco Planning Commission, whose father is now residing in Long Beach, is also spending Christmas on Verano Drive.

Charles is stationed at Fort Rod and is being assigned to an Airborne Unit. All three boys were students at El Camino High School.

Bandit Strikes in S.S.F.

Is Lost In Busy Crowds

An armed bandit robbed a South San Francisco jewelry shop last Tuesday, and then walked out onto a street crowded with Christmas shoppers and "disappeared into the air."

Police said the man, described as a white male in his mid-thirties, entered Baldasseroni's Jewelry store at 317 Grand Avenue about 1 p.m.

The proprietors, Mario and Fred Baldasseroni, were in the rear of the store, and when they looked up, the man pulled a large black pistol from his overcoat. He was wearing a stocking over his face.

The proprietors said the bandit placed a brown paper bag on the counter and told them to fill it with money "and some of that expensive jewelry."

He took $460 from the cash register and about $200 from the proprietors' wallets. He also placed a $150 ring in the bag, and took four men's watches valued at another $150.

Before leaving the robber told the two managers to stay in the rear of the store for five minutes.

As soon as he was out of sight they ran to the store next door and telephoned police.

The bandit was approximately five-feet, eight-inches tall, of medium build, and spoke with a Spanish accent. He was wearing a dark overcoat.

2 Arrested In Daly City For Burglary

Two men were arrested in Daly City last Wednesday, accused of the attempted daylight burglary of a home at 89 Second Avenue.

Ernest Cattaneo, 20, 560 Arlington, San Francisco; and Gordon Chandler, 18, were picked up by patrolmen in the yard of the home.

A third suspect, thought to be a juvenile, escaped.

Police said a private citizen notified them of three men entering the back yard.

When Daly City Patrolman Don Kelley responded, one fled through an adjacent greenhouse, while the others attempted to exit around the south side of the home.

Their escape was halted by the unidentified citizen. They were apprehended when they attempted to go in the other direction, where Kelley waited.

No one was home at the house.

Entry, the authorities said, was attempted through a rear kitchen window, with a small bamboo-handled steak knife used as a pry.

"MY BEST CHRISTMAS" CONTEST WINNERS — Chris Miettinen, Belmont, and Debbie Grassi, South San Francisco, receive the good news from Harold Schlotthauer, general manager of The Times, that they are the grand prize winners in the annual Christmas contest, "My Best Christmas" letter writing contest. Mrs. Margaret Buschini, manager of the classified advertising department, holds some of the hundreds of entries received during the contest.

Flames Rip D.C. Home As Wife Flees

An overheated extension cord shorted out and burst into flame in the 56 Belmont Drive home of S. M. Nowicki in Daly City causing an estimated $3,000 damage to structure and contents.

Firemen said Mrs. Nowicki was alone in the Westlake area home when the fire started in her daughter's bedroom. She had heard a "popping sound" from the room and went to investigate.

She quickly slammed the door to the bedroom, isolating it from the rest of the house, then ran outside the door to the residence shutting and locking.

In the meantime, a 15½-year-old passer-by, Steve Davis, used a street alarm box to notify firemen, who were being alerted also by neighbors via telephone.

Firemen, noting smoke and flame coming from the bedroom windows at the front of the residence, had to force their way in because the doors were locked.

A Fire Department spokesman said the fire started because the extension cord was overloaded.

Although damage was confined generally to the bedroom firemen estimated a loss of $2,000 to the structure and another $1,000 in furnishings.

Set Extension Course at Jeff

A University of California Extension course in "Basic Musicianship for Elementary School Teachers" is scheduled this winter at Jefferson High School, 6996 Mission Street, Daly City.

The class will meet weekly from 7 to 9:30 p.m. beginning January 3.

Further information and enrollment forms are available from University of California Extension, Berkeley, 94720.

Hootenanny at Pacifica Kicking Off Guitar Classes

Can you remember back to the days before the creatures known as The Beatles made the scene?

Do you recall the Kingston Trio, Peter, Paul and Mary, and many of the other great folksinging groups? And how about the great song fests they used to have?

As a prelude to the start of the guitar classes for teens and adults, beginning, and intermediate, Pacifica's Recreation Department is going to have a Hootenanny.

Everyone who is interested in learning to play the guitar or who does play is invited to attend the Tuesday night songfest to be held at Oddstad Park on January 17.

The event, starting at 8 p.m., will feature Miss Hilde Bauman, and Gary Ware, who are the instructors for the classes, leading the singing and guitar playing festivities.

New Teen Club Staff

The newly organized Winston Manor Teen Club of South San Francisco recently elected officers. They are Billy Kling, president; Jackie Stone, vice president; Linda Barton, secretary; Debbie Piro, treasurer; and Dan Kling, sergeant-at-arms.

The 30 members have held teen dances and given assistance to the Serra Vista P-TA programs. The club meets the second Thursday of each month at Serra Vista School. Mrs. Allan Yrjola is social chairman.

Participants will also have an opportunity to register for the guitar classes which will be starting the following Tuesday night. Classes will be offered in teen beginning guitar, and adult beginning and intermediate levels.

Registration for the six-week class will also be taken at the Park, Beach and Recreation Department office, during the week. Classes are limited to 15 members. Registration fee for the class is $6.

For further information contact the Park, Beach and Recreation Department office.

Fire Sedan In Collision

Only minor damage was reported in a collision of a San Bruno Fire Department sedan and a private vehicle on West Angus, San Bruno.

The fire vehicle, driven by Fire Chief Herbert Freitas, 52, 2460 Lexington Way, San Bruno, was stopped in the eastbound lane of West Angus waiting for traffic to move ahead.

A car driven by Emil Mario Magrin, 39, 777 Chateau Drive, Hillsborough, in the same lane, failed to see the auto in front of him, police said, and struck the left side and rear of the city car.

EARTHQUAKES

More than 900 potentially destructive earthquakes occur throughout the world each year.

Post and Times' Xmas Contest Winners Listed

A Belmont boy and a South San Francisco girl have been selected as the grand prize winners in The Times and Post fifth annual contest for boys and girls, 6 to 10 years of age.

Photographs of a boy and girl winner have appeared on the Gift Spotter page published daily from November 30 through December 21. Each boy and girl were chosen from among the hundreds of letters received from youngsters between the ages of 6 and 10 years of age on the subject: "My Best Christmas."

This contest won a special citation from the National Editorial Association: Margaret Buschini, classified advertising manager, accepted the national first-place award at the NEA Convention in Texas. Additionally, it has been recognized both nationally and internationally as an integral part of first and merit award submissions winning honors for The Times Classified Advertising Department.

In today's classified section appear the 38 winners of this contest, along with a picture of the grand prize winners.

Daily winners were awarded $5 gift certificates to be redeemed in any business of his or her choice advertising on the Gift Spotter page. The grand prize winners were each presented with $15 merchandise gift certificates.

Winners (as in previous years) were selected for ideas, thought and sincerity rather than for English, spelling or handwriting. A total of $200 in merchandise orders was awarded the winners.

Chosen for the $15 merchandise prizes from the hundreds of contestants on the subject, "My Best Christmas," were: Chris Miettinen, age 10, of 2700 Sequoia Way, Belmont; and Debbie Grassi, age 9, of 550 Grand Avenue, South San Francisco. Winner of the grand prize in the boys' division, Chris wrote: "My Best Christmas, was when I was waiting for my uncle to come. I had received all my presents but his. I sort of knew what he was bringing me, I wanted it badly. Mom especially liked the present I gave her — anyway it was the thought. Suddenly, the door burst open and there was my uncle. I saw it! The shape made it plain to see. But what was in the other box? It was time to open the presents. My grandmother, another grandfather, uncle and the cat and myself. I passed the presents around. I got it! My guitar! But now for the other box. It was an amplifier! After I got them all set up, I played a tune. That night I saw how lucky I was to have such nice parents and relatives."

A fifth grader at the Cipriani Grammar School in Belmont, Chris' favorite hobby and interest, of course, is his electric guitar, and he likes to sing, too. He is also active in the Cub Scouts and when he isn't practicing his guitar or participating in his pet hamsters.

The girl grand prize winner, Debbie is in the fourth grade at the All Souls Grammar School in South San Francisco. She has two brothers, 21 and 22, and one sister, 25. Her favorite hobbies are dolls and Pee-Wee Golf. In her winning letter, Debbie writes:

"My favorite and best Christmas was when I got a letter from my brother, Garry, who is in Alaska serving for our country. My surprise from him was when he wrote and told me he saw Santa Claus up the North Pole and said he was going to send me a present from him. My surprise was a tape recorder for Christmas, and he said he got himself one and now we send tapes back and forth to each other. That was my best Christmas."

D.C. Police Nab Youths

Patrolmen nabbed two juveniles who assertedly were attempting to break into a Daly City home late Wednesday.

The pair was arrested on charges of attempted burglary, as well as "investigation of possession of marijuana" and "investigation of possession of a concealed weapon."

From Pacifica, the two youths are 13 and 14 years of age.

Two others eluded the Daly City patrolmen, who answered a call that a burglary was in progress at the A. Serini residence at 1 Longview.

Patrolmen R. Bowers surprised the four. He said that after climbing a high fence, he saw the youths using a small glass cutter on the rear window of a garage.

But, just as Bowers spotted the four, they saw him and scampered over the rear yard fences. Bowers' shouts for them to halt failed, so he fired a single warning shot in the air with his service revolver.

He was able only to catch one of the suspects. Another patrolman apprehended the second.

A 1957-model car was involved in the case, police said, and while searching the vehicle the lawmen reportedly found marijuana cigarettes, plus a handgun.

A BEAMING NEW JUDGE for north municipal court, Paul Hupf of Daly City is shown moments after he was sworn in yesterday. With him are his daughters Christine and Cathy with Mrs. Hupf looking on proudly. Hupf was former city attorney of Daly City and will join his colleagues Charles Becker and Jose de Larios on the bench in South San Francisco.

Suit Claims 'Blacklist' By Realtors

A $520,000 lawsuit has been filed by a San Bruno real estate man alleging that he was blacklisted by the North San Mateo County Board of Realtors.

In the suit, Kenneth Newel Roberts, owner of Roberts Realty and Investment Company, 757 Kains Avenue, charges that the realty board is in restraint of trade and libeled him in one of its publications.

Twenty real estate firms are named as defendants and the suit asserts that all of the 50 or more members of the board were "co-conspirators" in a plan to keep Roberts out.

Roberts was a salesman for member firms until he went into business for himself last January and applied for membership with the realty board. The application, according to the lawsuit, was rejected May 18 in a "secret Star Chamber type of proceedings." Roberts said he was informed that the board had received three letters of complaint about him from member firms. He demanded that they be identified and that he be allowed to see the letters but was refused, the suit states.

The complaint alleges that the board adopted certain rules and regulations and engaged in certain practices, such as raising the initiation fee from $50 to $2,000 over a period of years and requiring new members to attend classes at College of San Mateo, for the purpose of restricting membership and "to monopolize the real estate market."

Roberts asks $300,000 damages for injury to his business, loss of profits, and damage to his good will and reputation because of the purported blacklist.

Last May 31, according to the complaint, the board's paper "News and Views" carried a short article stating that his application had been considered and rejected. The suit asserts that it was "understood by those who read it that plaintiff was incompetent, dishonest, of low integrity and immoral in the conduct of his business."

Roberts asks $20,000 special damages, $100,000 general damages and $100,000 punitive damages for libel.

In addition, he asks the court to order the realty board to admit him to membership and allow him to use its multiple listing service, to declare the board in restraint of trade and to rule that the bylaws complained of are invalid.

New Foxridge School Gets A Cafeteria

South San Francisco Unified School District trustees approved purchase of $100,000 cafeteria equipment in the new Foxridge Elementary School last week, and voted acceptance of final completion of the school.

The school's 12 classrooms have been completed and in use since September.

Purchase orders on the cafeteria equipment were awarded to the Pacific Cash Register Company, $214; General Hotel Supply Company, $520; Dohrmann Company, $433; and Rykoff and Company, $73.

Trustees also awarded purchase orders for 29 new typewriters at the meeting Monday. Nine typewriters were ordered from the International Business Machine Company and 20 from Royal Typewriter Company at a total cost of $6,327.

In other business, the board granted extension of seven work days to Dickman Construction Company, contractors on phase I construction of the new Skyline School.

A company spokesman said work on the project has been delayed by rain.

Pension Plan For County

Some 2,400 county government employees got a Christmas present last week when the Board of Supervisors approved a new pension plan that will increase their retirement benefits substantially.

The board substituted a fixed formula plan, based on length of service, age at retirement and highest salary average for three consecutive years, for a so-called "money purchase" plan that provides an annuity based strictly on the amount of contributions by the employee with matching amounts from the county.

County Manager E. R. Stallings gave these examples of what the change will mean:

A man retiring at 65 after 20 years of service and earning $385 a month will get a pension of $186 instead of $135.

A man retiring at 65 after 31 years and earning $800 will get $514 instead of $375.

The increases will be possible, Stallings said, without increasing the amount of employee contribution, which will remain at 5.52 per cent. The county will increase its contributions — by $310,200 in the first year — and reserves accumulated under the old plan will be applied to the new, Stallings explained.

Cub Leader Course Set

Marvin Schneider, chairman of Portola District Boy Scouts, announced that a Cub Leader training course will start January 9 at 8 p.m. at Sanchez School.

Instructors will be Bernie Lake and Chuck Krake. Points to be included are committee meetings; Den Mother training; use of Cub Leader's Quarterly and successful pack meetings.

$550 Wrench Taken in SSF

An "impact wrench" valued at $550 was stolen from the Mayco Salvage Company of South San Francisco sometime Thursday, police reported.

Officers said the wrench was taken from a pickup truck parked in front of the company's shop at 114 Harbor Way between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

2 Brothers Injured In San Bruno

Two young San Bruno brothers are in "satisfactory" condition at Peninsula Hospital with concussions suffered when a car struck their bicycle at 8:10 p.m. last Wednesday.

San Bruno police said William J. Trimmer, 8, was steering the bike, while his older brother, John, 10, pedaled.

They were riding across San Mateo Avenue, at Walnut, when they were hit by a car driven by Daryl L. Hegdahl, 329 Lux Avenue, South San Francisco.

The police stated that the bicycle had neither lights nor reflectors.

Both boys were knocked to the pavement when Hegdahl's auto smashed into the front wheel. Hegdahl, going north on San Mateo Avenue, attempted to miss the bike by swerving to the right.

PERMAFROST

Engineering geologists of the U.S. Geological Survey say that permafrost, or permanently frozen ground, underlies about 20 per cent of the entire land surface of the world.

Planners Ask Pacifica Zone Law Be Eased

Pacifica planning commissioners recommended a change in the city's zoning ordinance regulation prohibiting building within five feet of streets on corner lots last week.

Planners made the recommendation after it was noted that Henry Doelger builders would be unable to construct houses on several lots in the Fairmont Subdivision if the present ordinance is enforced.

The ordinance also requires that driveways of dwellings on corner lots be at least five feet from the "curb return," the section of curbing which borders the curve of an intersection.

Many of the Doelger units will not meet this specification either, unless garages are placed at the rear of the houses.

Planning commissioners disagreed Monday with City Engineer Ken Thompson, who favored placing driveways and garages in the rear, and recommended that the ordinance be changed to allow placing the drives nearer curb returns.

In other action Monday, planning commissioners recommended that the council adopt a resolution allowing credit for parking space to property owners on a section of Palmetto Avenue to be improved.

The arrangement recommended would allow one parking space for each 200 square feet of land taken from owners for street improvement.

The city has completed preliminary plans to widen a one-mile stretch of Palmetto Avenue.

"On street" parking would be utilized to provide the stipulated spaces, the city engineer said.

"All" Teams

Le Pacini

Contradictions in "All" teams continue to abound. Last week the Associated Press didn't even give Kansas City's Mike Garrett an honorable mention on its ALL-AFL team, even though Garrett finished second in rushing and was conceded to be one of the big differences in K.C.'s strong showing this season.

On the other hand, Buffalo's Jack Kemp, who's had better years and couldn't dent the "All" squads, was chosen on the second All-AFL team, even though he was in the lower echelons of every passing statistic. Granted, there's more to quarterbacking than just passing, but not that much more, and Kemp isn't THAT good a signal caller, ball handler or runner. His only real qualification, was that he was with a big winner, and isn't that always the way.

At the local level, one Metropolitan daily chose South City's Russ Cottrell on its first All Central Coast squad, the other on its second All North Coast team. If they can't get together on their geography, how can you figure 'em to agree on the really important things?

THE PAPER who chose to put this area on the "North Coast" rather than "Central Coast" teams, incidentally, chose locally, only tackle Mark Andrews from Capuchino on its first squad. Others from this general vicinity on the second team besides Cottrell were Cap's running back, Jim Kauffman, and quarterback, Mike Costanzo. El Camino's fine guard, Steve Nichols, was the only player besides Cottrell representing the NPL.

While we're still on "All" teams, good old Simon pure San Francisco State managed to place alumnus Floyd Peters on the NFL All Easter Division team, at a tackle spot. And although he didn't make any "All" teams, former Gator defensive back Bill Baird of the Jets reportedly had another real good year. When Baird, only 5-10, 180, went out for the pros four years ago, they told him he was too small, and he's still making them digest their words.

And if you're wondering what happened to another former Gator, Charley Fuller, probably the most exciting runner in State history, don't weep over his failure to cut it with the pros. He's now working as an M.C. and dancer in a Los Angeles night spot owned by Dick Bass, and pulling down a considerable salary.

So you think you're a football fan? Don't match ticket stubs with S.F. State rooster, Edmund Bacigalupi, who hasn't missed a Gator home or away game for eight years.

Might as well make this an S.F. State day. Three former Terra Nova athletes, basketball Jack Bresnahan, swimmer Rich Byfield and wrestler, Storm Gronson, are all doing well in their respective sports. Bresnahan, a soph., has been sprking the JV's; Byfield, a freshman butterfly expert, has made the varsity, and senior heavyweight Gronson not only hardly ever loses but is also team captain this year.

And senior, Tom Fester, from Capuchino, is figured to lead Gator gymnasts in scoring for the second straight year. Last year Fester finished second in the Far Western Conference on the parallel bars and third in the all around.

FOUR BOYS representing the Pacifica Bar Bell Club recently competed in San Jose YMCA National Junior Olympics Weightlifting meet and came out very well, indeed.

Richard Notmeyer, 15, the U.S. National Champion in the 103 pound class last year, again won his weight class and broke all personal records. He also tied the Pacific Association AAU Teenage Record for his weight class.

Also winning in his weight class was Richard's brother, Chuck, 13. Runner up in the same class was Mike Fabiano, 13, while the show spot in that class went to Mike Walitsch, at 11, the youngest weight lifter in the meet.

GLANCING at S.F. State's team scoring averages of last year we were startled to see that the Gators averaged 89.7 points per game, had 83.7 scored against them. When we were publicizing basketball for State a decade ago, 60 points was usually enough to win.

But we really shouldn't have been too surprised in light of the fact that in 1949, collegians averaged .308 from the floor; .616 at the line; .383 altogether, while last year, they went .436, .692, and .505, respectively. Style might have changed somewhat, but somebody must have gotten to them with technique.

Actually, everything in sports has gone up in the '60's (including prices). The average weight of an NBA player is 208; average height, 6-6½. If you're interested, average age is 25½; average experience three years; average salary, $17,500. University of San Francisco and Kansas have the most grads playing, four.

Average size among pro footballers are even more awesome: Fullback, 6-2, 225, runs the 40-yard dash in five flat; split ends, 6-3, 210, 4.9; tight ends, 6-3, 225, 5.1; flankers, 6-1, 195, 4.9; offensive tackles, 6-4, 255, 5.3; defensive tackles, 6-4, 260, 5.5; guards, 6-2, 245, 5.2; centers, 6-3, 245, 5.2; halfbacks, 6-0, 205, 4.9; qb's, 6-2, 205 (no time available); defensive ends, 6-4, 250, 5.3; outside linebackers, 6-2, 235, 5.2; middle linebackers, 6-3, 240, 5.3; strong side safeties, 6-2, 195, 5.0; weakside safeties, 6-0, 190, 4.9; wingbacks, 6-0, 190, 4.8.

A SPORTING NEWS COLUMNIST whose name escapes us at the moment recently picked an All-Star pro basketball team made up of second stringers from Boston and Philadelphia, and here's how it came out: center, Wayne Embry; forwards, John Havlicek and Dave Gambee; backcourt, Larry Siegfried and Larry Costello; bench men, Billy Cunningham, Don Nelson, Jim Barnett, Bill Melchionni and Matt Guokas. They'd murder the Warriors.

After six years of few chances former Cal Bear Darrall Imhoff, is finally proving himself as a pivot man for the Lakers. He's consistently scoring in double figures, at last reading was second in field goal percentage to Wilt Chamberlain's fantastic close to 70 per cent with a 54 per cent mark, and stood fifth in rebounding (15 average) behind only the Big Four of Chamberlain, Russell, Thurman and Lucas.

Playboys Win Hunch Title

The Daly City Playboys took the Daly City Recreation Department Adult Hunch League championship last week by sweeping a pair of games with the Blues and Half Pints.

Roy Reitz had a total of 52 points in the double victory and nosed out Chuck Ransom of Man's Men for league scoring honors.

Other highlights of the closing week of action saw Man's Men defeat the Blues in a thriller, 40-33, and walk away with the second place trophies.

Ransom tanked 28 points in this one while teammates Tom McMillin and Gary Pederson had good control of the boards. Policeman Don Kelley sparked the Blues attack with 17.

Pacifica Sets AAU Swimming Meet

Representatives from the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department attended an A.A.U. meeting in San Leandro December 10.

Attending the meeting were recreation supervisor Richard Burton, Sea Lion Swim Club coach Bob Frembling and Sea

Lion Swim Club A.A.U. representative Elvin Johnson.

The purpose of the meeting was to select A.A.U. meet dates for the 1967 swimming season. Nearly 100 swim clubs from as far north as Redding and from as far east as Reno were represented at the meeting.

The Park, Beach and Recreation Department representatives drew dates for two meets, the first July 22 and 23 and the second October 28 and 29.

The department and the Sea Lions conducted their first A.A.U. meet last July with nearly 600 swimmers participating.

Members of the Daly City team participating in the A.A.U. sanctioned event were Paula Dolder, Marcella Dunbar, Linda Hudson, Sylvia Hudson, Kay Hansen, Joyce Thrush, Sue Lencione, Sharon Kahrie and Sheree Stephens.

The subs could go no farther or faster underwater because they were driven by storage batteries that had to be recharged on the surface.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By Donald C. Waite

WHAT DO YOU NEED IN YOUR HOME?

Did you ever stop to think about the variety and selection of furniture that's available these days? Many people really aren't aware of all the exciting things that have been going on in the furniture business.

Let's talk about lamps for a moment. When you say "lamps" to some people they think only of floor lamps and table lamps. But there are chain lamps, pole lamps, tree lamps and desk lamps in every style and price range.

Do you need a new cocktail table? (Some call them coffee tables.) They are available with marble tops, plastic tops, wood tops in every finish, glass tops, and in every shape from round to oblong.

A chair? There are new lounge chairs, reclining and swivel chairs, pull-out chairs, dinette, and desk chairs, to name just a few.

At no obligation, we will be happy to show you furniture to fit your needs and your budget.

But whether you need new furniture now or not, you're still invited to come in and simply look around. We think you'll find it exciting to see all the different kinds of furniture — and furniture ideas — now available. We'll be looking forward to seeing you.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, Daly City, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m., for your shopping convenience.

Dropouts Rip 50 Antennae; Parents Pay

Parents of three South San Francisco teen-agers are going to have to make some drastic adjustments in their Christmas budgets to pay for a two-week siege of vandalism in the city.

Police detectives Billy Paterson and Ted Sylvas said three arrested juveniles admitted ripping radio antennas off 50 automobiles.

Insurance adjusters are in the process of tabulating the cost of repairing the cars, officers said, but it is certain the total damages will be "in excess of $600."

Two of the three boys are being processed into the Army, police said, and the third was turned over to juvenile authorities. All three are 17 years old, and school dropouts.

The youths gave no reason for the binge of vandalism.

Police said their parents have agreed to pay for the damage.

New Building For Pacifica

Permits for construction of two new commercial buildings were issued in Pacifica last week.

The permits were to G. W. Lincoln for a $20,000 building to house a flower shop at 801 Oceana Boulevard and Catherine Koche for a $21,000 structure to house an automatic car wash.

Other permits issued were to Melvin E. Holtz, addition to a dwelling at 916 Corona Drive, $3,120; Bank of America, sign at Fairmont Shopping Center, $440; Marshall Long, addition to a dwelling at 980 Rosita Drive, $300; Challenge Development Company, dwelling at 1104 Park Pacifica, $16,440, and dwelling at 1148 Park, Pacifica, $15,209.

Stamp Plan At Crocker Bank

Crocker-Citizens National Bank was selected Tuesday to handle the sale of food stamps in San Mateo County.

County Mgr. E. R. Stallings told the Board of Supervisors that the bank, which has 11 branches in eight cities in the county, made the most favorable bid of four proposals submitted.

Under the program, those qualifying to use the services will be certified by the nearest county welfare office and will then be able to buy stamps from the bank at 80 cents on the dollar. The stamps can be used to purchase essential food items.

Stallings estimated the program will get started around February 1.

Police Probe D.C. Thefts

Police in Daly City are probing the burglary of six stores all in the same area of Mission Street.

The authorities said "possibly two" burglars hit the Alladin Realty, 5908 Mission, Tuesday night, prying open a door and taking $800 from an unlocked safe.

An estimated $25 was taken from Wilma's Signs at 5978 Mission after entry was gained through a rear door.

The Mission Cabinet Shop, 5982 Mission, was ransacked, but nothing appeared missing, as was the case with Rudolph's Interiors at 5980 Mission next door, and City Overhead Doors, at 5960 Mission.

Cease Fire Danger Is Pointed Out

How fine it would be if the Christmas and New Year's truces in Vietnam could be enlarged into a prolonged ceasefire.

A genuine ceasefire, respected by both sides, could lead to the conference table, with the Communists ready to call it quits.

But the question is whether the Communists would respect either the spirit or letter of a prolonged holiday truce. The record is not reassuring. A similar situation existed in Korea in 1951. When the Panmunjom talks were started, the U.S. gave the nearly beaten Chinese and North Korean armies a respite. They used it to regroup and reinforce. The result was two more years of war and more U.S. casualties.

There are indications that the tide of the Vietnamese conflict may be running against the Communists. They, too, might welcome a respite. While not shooting, they might use it to regroup and reinforce. The outcome could be a renewal of the war with the Communists in a stronger position.

And the conference table would be farther away than ever.

'The Bible' A Bore

Barbara Bladen

"THE BIBLE" is an inconceivable subject for a movie in the first place. It opens tonight at the United Artists Theater. But producer Dino De Laurentiis thought with John Huston directing and a notable cast of knowns and unknowns, he'd have a monumental spectacle that might find a ready market.

This may all be true, but somewhere along the line the book became untranslatable to the celluloid. So that rather than overwhelm us with the power and glory of the great book, we're consigned to sit for 174 minutes of storybook characters who fill the screen in tableau presentation and are lacking the humanness that would have made the film more commendable. "The Bible," is just another spectacle.

There is a great deal of warmth in Huston's portrayal of Noah in the flood chapter but in spite of glorious camerawork by Ernst Haas, who will surely be awarded an Oscar for his cinematic illustrating of the six days of creation, the figures are glossy, glamorous and glorified in the image of Hollywood.

THE TITLE is misleading. Anyone with half a brain would know they couldn't film the entire Bible. It covers the first 22 chapters of "Genesis" in continuous sequence, the stories of the Creation; Adam and Eve; Cain and Abel; Noah and the Flood; the Tower of Babel; the Destruction of Sodom and the Saga of Abraham.

A most noted and worthy playwright, Christopher Fry, wrote the screenplay. And it covers the basic points of each story with dispatch. But it lacks believability, tends toward corniness (the Sodom destruction) and forces its actors and actresses to play in the grand manner with an eye to capturing the hearts of all faiths.

The opening sequences are a tribute to the technical skill and professional artistry of its cameramen. Michael Parks and Ulla Bergryd, as Adam and Eve, carry off their nude scenes with class. One is led to believe this sets the tone for the remainder of the film.

Then along comes Richard Harris as Cain and the common denominator, mass appeal angles, take over with broad depiction of the oft-told slaying and special effects designed to thrill and surprise the viewers, especially the kiddies.

George C. Scott, Ava Gardner and Peter O'Toole are as honest in their portrayals as they can be. But their image is all wrong as God's favorite Abraham, his humble and self-denying wife Sarah and O'Toole, as three angels played individually and simultaneously through the wonderful trickery of superimposition.

The movie has a lot going for it with the animal two-by-two ark scene. Where it captures the juvenile audience on that score, it sure loses them when Abraham's saga and the command killing of his son rolls into high gear.

All in all, the film is a bore but it has bright spots, relieved by an intermission and has interesting backgrounds of Rome, Sardinia, Sicily and North Africa.

To call it poetic is discrediting the name of poetry. It is large and long and colorful. That's all it could be and on that score it succeeds. Holiday matinees at 2 p.m. will begin tomorrow and continue through January 2.

Cap Band's Rose Bowl Fund Growing

Capuchino High School band members have given thanks to the many who have contributed to the Rose Parade Fund during the past week.

Although the Cap Band Boosters Club has raised funds from various projects and parents have covered about half of the $8,000 budget for the trip, there is still need for additional contributions.

Anyone wishing to send contributions to the Capuchino Band Fund, should write a check in that name and mail it to 1501 Magnolia Avenue, San Bruno.

Band Master Ralph Bredenberg announced the following contributors during the past few days: San Bruno Women's City Club, Native Daughters of the Golden West of San Bruno, and Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Post 2517.

Others include Guy F. Atkinson of South San Francisco, Air Transport Employees, Eimac of San Carlos, McAfee's Department Store, Amroff Men's and Boys' Wear and Fabric Center of San Bruno. Individuals sending donations were

Harry Alton, Robert L. Orchard, Peter J. Kistler and Mr. and Mrs. H. Bachman.

Other contributors include Mr. and Mrs. San Peradotto, Mrs. Virginia Nuno, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kaher, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lachergue, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hoyde, Mr. and Mrs. David Batz, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Odle, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Holmes, and Diana LeRay.

"We Love Our Capuchino Band" was the motto painted by several band mothers who gathered at the Rick Seim home in San Bruno this week.

Participating were Mrs. Dale Sly, Mrs. Ralph Bredenberg, Mrs. Joe Rieth, Mrs. Robert Bruce, Mrs. Ora Phillips, Mrs. Don Rogers and Mrs. Seim. Also helping make posters was Mrs. Robert Steenberg, mother of Cap Band Alumnae.

Posters are stationed in San Bruno and Millbrae business houses.

The Ways and Means Committee and Publicity Committee of the Capuchino Band Boosters Club met recently at the Joe Rieth home in Millbrae to iron out last minute details concerning the band trip.

Dale Sly reported that band parents have contributed approximately half of the trip funds. He acknowledged contributions from business, professional people, service clubs and individuals including many Cap alumni. Funds also have come from the Cap Choir Concert, the Capuchino Student Body, parents' fund-raising events and there is anticipated a good sum from a Bottle Drive the students will hold December 28.

Travel plans were noted and arrangements made concerning transporting uniforms and instruments. Mrs. J. P. Dowcett and Mrs. Joe Rieth gave reports on the publicity, noting the excellent coverage given by all Peninsula newspapers.

Attending the meeting were Band Master and Mrs. Ralph Bredenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Sly, Mrs. Christopherson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. B. Meeks, Mrs. G. Hawk, Mrs. Rick Seim, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rieth, Ray DeAragon and Steve Lansdowne.

Beating out the news — of the Capuchino High School's band trip to the Rose Parade is drummer Gordon Moore. Peeking around the bass drum are pretty majorettes Laurie Hacton, left, and Cindy Sereni, two co-eds who will be leading the band on Colorado Boulevard in Pasadena January 2.

Dramatic Answer To Country Cynics

Samuel Chandler

To the cynics and the long-haired pacifists that sneer at our country, "This Treasured Land" is a dramatic answer.

Taking their theme from Walt Whitman — "The United States themselves are essentially the greatest poem," Ivan T. Sanderson and the editors of Country Beautiful Magazine have produced a book to show that Americans still live by a "lively faith in the perfectability of man."

This faith has produced a nationwide spirit of optimism that, in turn, makes America, as De Tocqueville wrote, "a land of wonders, in which everything is in constant motion and every change seems an improvement."

It is a land, the authors say, that is an example to all other people of what can be done. It is a country that caused a young African author to say that every man has two countries — his own and America.

"IN the United States the nurturing of individual freedom and equal opportunity has produced a continuous and progressive social and economic flowering which has eliminated the need for violent change and given us the abundant life envisaged by the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and forever sought by all mankind."

At the end of their introduction the authors put into words thoughts that many Americans know to be true.

"Although all manner of new problems and tests must inevitably lie ahead, as long as we preserve individual freedom and continue to widen opportunity for all, there is no reason to be pessimistic. Our current problems would be terrifying and perhaps overwhelming to others, but America is tackling them frontally in the sincere belief that our system is the best yet devised."

Aside from the author's belief that America's faith is justified "This Treasured Land" is a beautiful book with over 150 photographs in a brilliant array of colors or in clear, black and white.

THE BOOK is divided into five sections: "The Gifts of the Land; A Nation Conscious of Its Heritage; America Is Worship and Knowledge; America Is a Miracle of Production and Motion; the American Community."

No section shows the author's concept of Americans as one people in spite of their diversities more than chapter three, "America Is Worship and Knowledge." They quote Daniel Webster in his call upon the various denominations to produce in all minds a pious feeling of dependence and gratitude.

The authors see in the struggles of the New England Puritans, the Maryland Catholics, the missionaries of the Indians, and in the Mormon trek to Utah, and the 17th century stand of small groups of Baptists the symbols of the firmness of the American sense of mission. (This firmness, they say, has been carried into the world by American soldiers.)

In section five the authors discuss big city homes as well as rural dwellings. They do not blink at the blight or glide over the slum problem; yet they conclude that American people have a love affair with their places, times, and tempo.

"A CITY in America is like a woodland pond to a farm boy." It can be either just an area, or a magical place holding all the wonders of the universe if its beholder only takes a few moments to peer at it closely and explore its depths with a calculating eye.

To some "This Treasured Land" may seem like flag waving — like putting lace at the end of a cloth; to most Americans, however, it will be a big, beautiful book about a big, beautiful country.

Rushing Experience!

Young people by the hundreds learned and gained expense funds this Christmas week in Peninsula stores and markets.

One of the most ambitious of the work-learning experiences was conducted by Capuchino High School's sales and merchandising classes under Elaine Farmer.

Many of her pupils had been working at department stores in the San Bruno-Millbrae area and all are benefitting from their experiences.

Richard Giron, merchandise manager of Britt's department store and strong supporter of the program, says, "We hire these young people in August so by Christmas our customers get experienced and well-trained help. We really depend upon them."

Miss Farmer commented, "I am so proud of these young people. Sundays, Saturday and in the evenings they work to prove that they can be independent. It is a privilege to teach them and to work with them."

Better Business

Season Is Over, Complaints Start

Lorene Beasley

Over now is the Christmas season with its mad shopping, excitement, and crowds.

And the complaints are being received by the Better Business Bureau office, with fierce regularity.

The reliable stores throughout the country were stocked with attractive merchandise, well advertised and honestly sold. However, despite the many warnings from the BBB, the season's cheer has been ruined for many who bought from businesses open only during the Christmas selling season.

SHOPPERS have found that their complaints concerning the bargains in watches, jewelry, radios, and other small appliances which they purchased from these transient firms have fallen upon empty stores.

Many bargain-minded customers ordered from unknown mail-houses. They bought distress liquidation-type merchandise from promoters without first determining the firm's reliability.

Many of these did not receive their ordered merchandise in time for Christmas giving. Some of this will eventually be delivered and a certain percentage will never be received. There is little likelihood of redress for such mail orders.

Children were the principal victims of the phoney price tag racket. Shopping with a limited budget, they were dazzled by the gifts they could buy "wholesale" according to the wording and prices printed on carton containing such items of cheap quality as cuff links, bill folds and jewelry.

THE cruelest operators were those who welcomed "bad credit accounts." The customer who got into arrears with such merchants found themselves in danger of having their salaries garnished, and in several cases, even the possibility of losing their jobs.

Honest customers, doing business with reliable firms, seldom have difficulty adjusting differences, since every effort is made to please the buyer.

For the firm. The customer should not expect a full refund on a returned article that has now been placed on sale at a reduced price.

"Buyer's remorse" or just because the gift was something the recipient did not want, is no reason for a merchant to be required to give a refund.

OTHER Christmas shoppers have learned that the prices quoted can be very misleading. They did not realize that the months involved should be determined and then multiplied by the monthly payment to determine the exact costs.

As we come to the end of another year of warring on the unethical, the gyp, the fly-by-night operator, or the new and used car sales were "bait-and-switcher" we remind our readers that during the past year many thousands of new and used car sales were concluded to the mutual satisfaction of all parties concerned with no renegeing on guarantees; hundreds of thousands of garments were processed by local dry cleaners without complaint.

No Wild Feelings

Louanne Heath

Another year is about to slip away and, with enterprising young insurance men spending this last week cheerfully informing us that we will be a year older — insurance wise — in a matter of days, it is a little difficult to arouse any wild feelings of excitement or elation as the last hours of good, old, comfortable 1966 slip away.

Job offered some cold comfort way-back-when, when he remarked, "With the ancient is wisdom; and in length of days, understanding. Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom." It's comforting but somehow it doesn't cut much ice with the younger generation, and frankly, it doesn't make me feel a bit better about the insurance man's genial reminder!!! Years come and years go and there are always tugs and the heartstrings, as we think back over the months gone by, but it is the rare individual who doesn't contemplate even better things ahead, and so despite any temporary feelings of regret, we may feel for 1966, here is hoping that 1967 holds all that is finest for you and yours.

Members of Bethel 348, International Order of Job's Daughters gathered for the Incoming-Outgoing Honored Queens' luncheon recently, in the Brentwood Lodge and congratulated outgoing queen, Lorré Sandkulla, on a term well spent and wished incoming queen, Vickie Garcia a successful reign.

Mrs. Stella Jensen of Burlingame, past supreme grand guardian of the International Order of Job's Daughters, was the very special guest at the event.

Returning home from an extended visit in the East, is Mrs. Sadie Chapman, who spent several weeks visiting relatives in Baltimore, New York and New England.

Home for the holidays, after a glorious three months in Europe, are Mr. and Mrs. Claus Lindhorst, of Daly City.

The Lindhorsts spent most of the time in Germany visiting family and friends, in particular Mrs. Lindhorst's mother.

The couple returned to the United States aboard the Christoforo Colombo, an Italian steamship, which made stops in Italy, Spain and Greece.

Down briefly, before Christmas, were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lane and family, from Eureka, Nev.

The Lanes, longtime residents of Westlake, were in town making the final arrangements for Mrs. Lane's return in February to await the birth of their fourth child.

Miss Hilda Anderson of San Francisco, will be hostess when the members of the San Francisco Alumnae Chapter of the Alpha Iota Business Sorority meet on January 3.

According to Mrs. James McCraney, publicity chairman, the sorority sisters will assemble items to be sent to the Green Beret medics in Vietnam, and will be making final plans for a Mexican dinner to be prepared and served at the Falstaff Brewing Corporation building in San Francisco, on February 4.

Mrs. McCraney reports that the public will be invited to attend the dinner, and any one interested is urged to contact the chairman, Mrs. Louis Garcia, by telephoning 334-6894.

Fashions Mystique is the name of the fashion show being readied by the ladies of the Westlake Catholic Women, according to word from Mrs. Lloyd Moulton, the publicity chairman.

The event will be the thirteenth annual such show presented by the group and a lovely afternoon is being planned for February 4. The site of the show-luncheon will be the Grand Ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel and the fashions to be exhibited will be from the Westlake branch of H. Liebes and Company.

Mrs. Dino H. Tonelli is the chairman of Mystique and her co-chairman is Mrs. Albert Fambrini. Other officers of the event are Mrs. Patrick Schofield, and Mrs. John Fitzpatrick, investments; Mrs. Thomas Gill and Mrs. Edward Avanzino, reservations; Mrs. Albert Bucci and Mrs. Robert Walker, decorations; Mrs. William J. Murray and Mrs. Edward O'Donnell, hostesses and favors; Mrs. Richard McHugh and Mrs. Eugene Bertorelli, door prizes; Mrs. Byron Davenport and Mrs. Robert Markey, models; Mrs. Dario Baciocco and Mrs. Guido Tripaldi, programs; Mrs. William Shanahan, secretary; Mrs. Thomas Daly, commentator; Mrs. Howard Poblitz, club president and Mrs. Moulton, publicity.

Tickets will be sold for $5 per person and anyone wishing more information, should contact Mrs. Gill, 756-7290, or Mrs. Avanzino, 755-7959.

Patti Stolz, who formerly served as the director of the Daly City Community Chorus made public a letter from the captain of the aircraft carrier, Enterprise, which reached her just before Christmas. The tape of the television broadcast "Christmas is for Children," made last year by the Community Chorus, is aboard the Enterprise and has been played so many times during the pre-Christmas season, that very little sound remains on the tape according to the captain. Patti noted that the Mrs. Santa costume, used on the show last year, accompanied the tape to Vietnam waters and has been worn numerous times during the holidays.

Even though the Fifty Plus Club has its big year end celebration still before it, plans for 1967 are already crowding the calendars of members.

One of the first items of importance to the club will be the expanding of the oil painting class, from a weekly two-hour session, to a three-hour meeting.

According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president of the club, classes will begin the new three-hour format on January 14, with former class members, as well as many new enrollees expected.

Luther Spraker of the Pacific Artist's Guild, will again be instructing the students, Mrs. Calhan indicated.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Spark, of Lincoln and Sierra City, and daughter, Andrea, of Pacific Grove, have again selected Daly City as their base of operations, as they spend several days in the Bay Area, enjoying their annual reunion and renewing old acquaintances.

New Prexy For V.F.W. In San Bruno

Mrs. Thomas J. Clark who has lived 29 years at 828 Third Avenue, San Bruno, will head V.F.W. Auxiliary 2517.

Mrs. Clark has many incidents to recall of her volunteer services on behalf of veterans. This will be a seventh term of office since joining the group in March, 1938. Mrs. Clark's husband, the late Tom, was past commander of Tanforan Post 2517 during 1938-39.

Two projects are on the agenda of the Auxiliary this term — Operation Poppy Seeds, which will aid the Department V.F.W. Auxiliary in furnishing the offices of the new V.F.W. Sacramento Headquarters building, and Operation Vietnam to provide Christmas cheer for the veterans overseas.

A Gift For The Half Way House

A Christmas party was held recently by the Soroptimist Club of Millbrae-San Bruno at the home of Mrs. Warren Mooney, Millbrae.

A buffet supper was served with each member providing a specialty. Mrs. R. P. Maynard assisted Mrs. Mooney with decorations.

Gifts were exchanged with a special going to Mrs. A. Farnochia, who will be moving to Southern California. A gift of food was brought for Peninsula Halfway House. The local club has a monthly food shower for the home parolées, as well as providing other needed items.

The next regular meeting of the club will be on the second Thursday of January. The board meeting will be January 4, at the Millbrae Library.

Crunchy Aftermath

Nell Norton

"Tis the week after Christmas, and all through the house" — there's a resounding crunch as the children step on their plastic toys. (I hope Santa included a large tube of plastic glue with the toys.) Ah well, if toys lasted forever the manufacturers would have to go out of business. And we wouldn't want to throw the economy into a tail spin would we?

I know many of you are planning New Year's parties and I'd like to suggest this wonderful casserole as an entree. It's a wonderful dish for your buffet, served with hot French bread, tossed salad and the other goodies that you have planned — it will really start the New Year right.

MOCK RAVIOLI PART I

- 2 lbs. ground meat
- 2 onions chopped
- 1 clove garlic, chopped
- 3 Tbsp. oil
- 1 can mushrooms, 4 oz. size
- 1 can tomato sauce
- 1 can tomato paste
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 1/2 teaspoons mixed Italian seasonings
- Salt and pepper

Saute the two onions and clove of garlic in the 3 tablespoons oil, until golden. Add the two pounds of ground meat and cook stirring with a fork until nicely browned. Add the can of mushrooms, cans of tomato sauce and tomato paste, 1 1/2 cups of water, 1 1/2 teaspoons Italian seasonings and salt and pepper. Mix well, cover and simmer while you complete the rest of the dish.

PART II

- 1 1/2 cups cooked spinach, drained and chopped
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1/2 cup minced parsley
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup grated cheese (I used cheddar)
- 1 clove garlic, chopped fine
- 1 teas. sage
- 1 teas. salt
- 4 eggs well beaten

Place the 1 1/2 cups of drained and chopped spinach in a large bowl. Add 1/2 cup oil, 1/2 cup minced parsley, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1/2 cup grated (cheddar) cheese, 1 clove garlic, one teaspoon each, sage and salt. Mix well and then stir in 4 eggs, which have been well beaten. Set aside.

PART III

- 1 lb. butterfly macaroni
- Cook macaroni in boiling water until tender, drain.

PART IV

Using a large oblong baking dish, or two smaller ones; grease and arrange a layer of cooked macaroni on the bottom. Top with a layer of spinach mixture, add a layer of the meat sauce. Repeat layers until all ingredients are used. Ending with a layer of meat sauce. Sprinkle with additional grated cheese.

Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes.
HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL YOU GOOD COOKS.

Yule Party By Fuchsia Club In South S.F.

The El Camino Fuchsia Society met at the New Southern Restaurant in South San Francisco, for its annual Christmas party.

The "happy hour" began at 7, and dinner was served at 8 p.m. The Christmas decor was outstanding, and a white tree decorated with live fuchsias.

New officers for 1967 were installed by Joseph Kusber, a former president of the club. Try Pork Chop And Yam Casserole

There's many a good main dish casserole that can be concocted with yams — either the fresh ones you cook yourself or the ones you buy so conveniently in cans.

The latest casserole of this sort tried at our house is hearty and flavorful pork chops, yams, prunes, lemon and orange slices and a suspicion of candied ginger. This combination looks so attractive and tastes so delicious that it is fine to serve at an informal dinner party.

What else can go on the menu? We prefaced our main dish with a shrimp cocktail — served in the living room with before dinner beverages. Then at the table we offered only hot crusty bread and a watercress salad with the pork chops and yams. Tossed with an oil and vinegar dressing the watercress made a refreshing and crisp accompaniment to the main dish.

For a dessert that is on the austere side, offer water biscuits and cheese. But if you prefer to go wildly rich, bring on Pecan Pie!

- PORK CHOP AND YAM CASSEROLE
- 1 cup (about 20) prunes
 - 1 1/2 cups water
 - 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 - 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 - 1 tablespoon chopped candied ginger (rinse in hot water if necessary to soften before chopping)
 - 1/4 teaspoon mace
 - dash of salt
 - 6 medium-size yams (cooked, peeled, and halved)
 - 1 lemon, sliced (unpeeled)
 - 1 orange, sliced (unpeeled)
 - 6 pork chops (3/4 inch thick), lightly browned

Raisin Walnut Bread Great Yeast Loaf

One of the best yeast loaves we have ever baked!

Raisin Walnut Bread

Red Apples Hot Cocoa

RAISIN WALNUT BREAD

- 1 cup very hot water
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 package dry yeast dissolved in 1/4 cup warm water
- 1 cup stoneground whole-wheat flour
- 2 cups (about) unsifted regular flour
- 1/4 cup each raisins and coarsely chopped walnuts

In a large bowl, in the hot water, dissolve the sugar and salt and melt butter; cool to lukewarm. Stir in the dissolved yeast, then the whole-wheat flour. Gradually stir in the 2 cups regular flour, then the raisins and walnuts. Work with a spoon for a few minutes, then knead in bowl, adding a little flour if necessary, for several minutes — dough will be sticky. Cover and let rise in draft-free warm place until doubled — about 40 minutes. Punch down. Turn out and shape into a loaf. Place in a 9x5x3-inch pan. Cover and let rise until about 1 inch from top of pan about 40 minutes. Bake in a 375-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes.

Simmer prunes in water for 5 to 8 minutes. Drain prunes and pour the prune liquid (there should be about 1 cup) into a saucepan; add the brown sugar, lemon rind, ginger, mace and salt. Simmer, stirring occasionally, until syrup is slightly reduced and thickened. Pit prunes. In a buttered baking dish (about 13 by 9 by 2 inches) arrange yams, prunes, lemon and orange slices, leaving space for chops. Pour syrups over top and place chops in a row down the width or length of the casserole, propping them up slightly with the yams and fruit. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven, basting a few times with syrup in pan, until tender — 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Instead of the fresh yams called for in the recipe, you may use 2 cans (each 1 pound or 1 pound and 1 ounce) of syrup-packed yams and drain them. The yam syrup may be used in some other dish.

Salmon Is Plentiful And Nourishing

Salmon has helped nourish members of the human race since prehistoric times. Today, thanks to modern canning methods, salmon is widely known as a cosmopolitan food fish. Its delicious flavor, nutritional value, and the convenience of the easy-to-store, easy-to-use can are three good reasons for serving salmon frequently, says Harid E. Crowther, acting director of the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

Crowther says a heavy catch of salmon in 1966 will result in plentiful supplies of canned salmon during the coming holiday and Lenten seasons.

The following recipe, developed by home economists of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, demonstrates one of many simple-to-prepare canned salmon entrees:

- SALMON CHOWDER
- 1 pound can salmon
 - 1 chicken bouillon cube
 - 1 cup boiling water
 - 1/4 cup chopped onion
 - 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
 - 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
 - 1/4 cup butter or other fat, melted
 - 1/2 cup salmon liquid
 - 1 1/2 pound can tomatoes
 - 1 can (8 ounces) whole-kernel corn
 - 1 cup sliced okra (optional)
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon thyme
 - Dash pepper
 - 1 whole bay leaf
- Drain salmon, reserving liquid. Break salmon into large pieces. Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water. Cook onion, green pepper, and garlic in butter until tender. Combine all ingredients and cook for 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Remove bay leaf. Serves 6.

For further menu suggestions and some helpful hints in serving this tasty fish, write for the popular bureau recipe booklet, "Take a Can of Salmon." This 17-page booklet, in color, is free from the Canned Salmon Institute, 618 Second Avenue, Seattle, Wash. 98104.

 - 4 frankfurters, thinly sliced into rounds
 - 4 large eggs, slightly beaten with salt and pepper to taste
 - 8 thin sliced bread, toasted and buttered

1 small onion, chopped

Remove lid and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally until almost all liquid is absorbed. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Spoon hot cabbage into reserved cabbage shell. Sprinkle crumbled bacon over top.

To make it a really festive treat, fill the center of the crown roast with a mince meat stuffing. Start with the new cube stuffing—the kind with the herbs and spices already baked into the small bread cubes. This delicate combination of spices and mince meat will enhance the roast and be the highlight of your holiday dinner.

Buffet Potato-Cheese Ring Great for Entertaining, and for Leftovers

Creamed Potatoes, plain or with cheese added, has long been a family favorite. But change its shape, fancy it up a bit, and what a dish you have!

Our glamorous Buffet Potato-Cheese Ring could have been shaped in a loaf bread pan, a heat-proof mixing bowl or a casserole of the size you want just as well as in a ring mold. Just change the garnishing to fit the form.

But don't expect perfection for all the fancy direction if you aren't fussy about the potatoes you use. You'll want the variety which cooks up mealy and dry, the kind you demand for baking, such as the full-of-flavor Idaho-grown Russets.

No place, except in potato salad, does a soapy "boiled" potato show its nature by way of texture and taste as much as it does in creamed potatoes.

In shopping, you'll recognize "Idahos" by their uniformly oval size, their russet-brown net-textured skins with comparatively few and shallow eyes. Sizes will vary, so pick according to use. For this is an all-purpose potato. The same fine qualities which make it outstanding as a "baker" are needed for perfect French-fries, scalloped, boiled, and mashed potatoes, whatever you've a mind to do with them.

By way of amount of potatoes to cook, it does depend upon size of mold and number of servings desired. A 6 and 1/4 cup ring mold will take 6 rounded cups of cubed potatoes.

But why not cook more than you need for the dish? Cold boiled "Idahos" in the refrigerator are an entertaining gal's best friend for meals from breakfast to midnight, a real convenience food!

The best "Boiled" potatoes are actually "steamed," whether they are cooked in their jackets or peeled. Save time and valuable nutrients by scrubbing the skins as for baking. Pick "Idahos" of the same size for even cooking, whether large, medium, or small.

Place scrubbed potatoes in a kettle which has a tight-fitting lid. A wide shallow pan is better than a deep narrow one, with potatoes arranged in not more than two layers. Pour in cold water 1-inch up on sides of kettle. Cover. Bring water to boiling point rapidly. Reduce heat so that water will simmer.

Pierce potatoes with a small skewer to test for doneness. For medium-size potatoes, it will take around 45 minutes. When almost tender, pour off water. Shake kettle over low heat until "Idahos" are cool enough to handle, then peel off skins and cut lengthwise in finger-size strips, crosswise to form even-size cubes.

Whether they are to be used in cream sauce or in a potato salad, warm potatoes take on the sauce or dressing flavor much better than do cold potatoes. But don't let cold potatoes stop you from trying this!

BUFFET POTATO-CHEESE RING
(for 8 hearty servings)
These proportions are for a 6 1/2 cup ring mold. Vary according to mold used.

6 rounded cups cubed cooked "Idahos"
2 cups (canned) Cheese Sauce
1 1/2 cups shredded sharp-aged natural Cheddar cheese
6 to 8 round butter-rich crackers

Mix just enough of the hot Cheese Sauce into the cubed potatoes to just hold them together. Pack tightly into well-buttered ring mold or casserole. Cover with a plastic bowl cover, waxed paper or foil. Keep several hours or overnight (preferably) in the refrigerator.

To use, about 45 minutes before serving, run a spatula or knife around sides of mold or set in hot water a minute. Place an oven-proof platter or plate on top of mold. Invert platter and let stand a few minutes. Tap gently to loosen. Remove mold. Sprinkle with shredded cheese and, if desired, top with butter-rich round crackers crunched coarsely between the fingers. Bake about 25 minutes in a 400 degree F. (moderately hot) oven or until lightly browned and heated through. If baked on a cookie sheet, loosen bottom, then slide the ring or mound onto a heated serving plate.

Refreshing canned pineapple juice is the naturally sweet juice of the golden sun ripened fruit. Chilled, it is a refreshing appetizer. For a colorful garnish, sandwich a maraschino cherry between two pineapple chunks and spear with a pick.

Try Fried Cream For Holiday Dessert

A fascinating dessert called Fried Cream has delighted eaters in a number of countries over the years. In our own country it is particularly popular in southern states.

FRIED CREAM

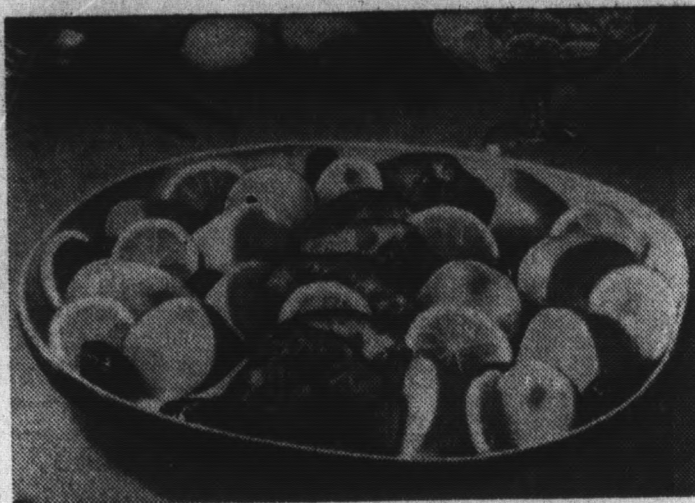

1-3 cup sugar
4 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 egg, beaten
1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs

About 1 quart corn oil for frying
In double-boiler top thoroughly stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually stir in milk, keeping smooth. Cook and stir constantly over boiling water until well thickened. Cover and cook 10 minutes, stirring occasionally; increase cooking time to 15 minutes if glass double boiler is used. Slowly stir hot mixture into egg yolks, then return to double-boiler top. Cook and stir constantly until rethickened — about 2 minutes or 3 minutes for glass double boiler. Remove from boiling water. Gently mix in almond extract, vanilla and butter. Pour into 8x8x2-inch baking pan. Cool 5 minutes. Gently cover surface with plastic film — do not press down hard. Refrigerate until firm, at least 4 hours or overnight. Invert pan on lightly floured board to remove cream mixture. Cut into 16 two-inch squares, then if desired, cut each square into 2 triangles. Dip each piece into beaten egg, then breadcrumbs. Pour corn oil into sturdy, flat-bottom kettle or deep fryer, filling utensil 1-3 full. Heat over medium heat to 375 degrees. Fry cream until golden brown — 1 1/2 to 2 minutes. Drain on brown paper or paper toweling. Serve warm. Makes 8 servings.

WALNUT WHIP CONES

Prepare 3 3/4-ounce package vanilla whipped dessert mix according to directions beating in a medium banana with the water. Stir in 1/2 cup chopped California walnuts and chill a few minutes until thick enough to mound when dropped from spoon. Use to fill cup-shaped ice cream cones.

PORK CHOP CASSEROLE — made with yams (fresh or canned), prunes, orange and lemon slices, candied ginger and a brown-sugar syrup.

East's Flower Art

Mrs. Paul Kincaid, an avid understanding Japanese plant student of all the floral arts of craft is to understand Japanese Japan for many years has just had a book published by Hearst Press, Inc., that takes most of the confusion and mystery out of these arts for the westerner.

A section on Japanese Gardens and Houses follows, its clear text illustrated with excellent photographs, many of them taken by the author to amplify important points. You learn techniques for creating the illusion of distance and space. How sand is raked to simulate meandering streams. How trees and shrubs are pruned to create the interesting shapes so typical of Japanese plants. How paths are made to disappear, thereby magnifying the sense of space.

YOUR NEW YEAR'S GUIDE TO GOOD FOOD AND FUN

Joe Piccinini's Oreste's Stocks Variety of Wines

JOE PICCININI'S ORESTE'S restaurant at Golden Gate Avenue and Jones, can serve luncheon and dinner to special parties of from 25 to 75 persons. Banquet facilities include a variety of rooms serving from 28 to 125 persons. All luncheons and dinners involving the banquet rooms do not require an extra charge. There is also a beautiful cocktail lounge. Owner Joe Piccinini stocks approximately 200 different wines, both domestic and imported, including the finest of champagnes. . . . For a taste of Ye Olde English holiday cheer, visit Martinelli's 'appy Knight restaurant, Hillsdale. The Medieval decor looks straight out of old castles. Before dinner, enjoy your favorite wassail bowl . . . Nobody celebrates New Year's Eve with more gusto than the Greeks. The Balkan Village of Los Altos will feature the full menu of Greek favorites, plus American steaks and chops. Greek entertainment will highlight the program.

SINALOA'S NEW YEAR'S EVE "BABY" — Curvaceous Vickie Alvarez, one of San Francisco's most popular entertainers, opens a return engagement at Luz Garcia's Powell Street cantina on New Year's Eve. Vickie, who just returned from a South American tour of leading nightclubs, will be a welcome addition to the already-sparkling all Latin floor show.

ALTHOUGH PLANNED AS A "TOP-SECRET" strategy meeting, Governor-Elect Ronald Reagan's appearance created plenty of excitement at South San Francisco's Holiday Inn, last week. Everything went along smoothly — and secretly — until the new governor called a break and slipped into the coffee shop for a snack. Waitresses swooned as they scrambled for a chance to wait on the handsome guest. The surprise came when Reagan approached a bus-boy, known around the "Inn" as an ardent Pat Brown fan, put out his hand and said, "I'm Ronald Reagan, nice to meet you." . . . If you're thinking of treating your secretary to lunch during the holiday season, you couldn't take her to a more picturesque spot than the Castaway restaurant at Coyote Point in San Mateo. The price is right, and the food is "out of this world." George Tribelhorn is the handsome general manager to call for reservations . . . A perfect place to spend an evening of dancing during the holidays, or any time, is the Villa Lounge, where the George Cerruti Trio provides the sweet sounds.

Ronald Reagan

JULIO AND RENO DONATI and Nick Sparra, owners of the New Southern restaurant, South San Francisco, are planning for a gala New Year's Eve party. A special five-course dinner, dancing to live music in the Southern Room, hats, party favors, and noisemakers are all included. Of course, entertainment at the organbar . . . The Brass Rail will feature one of the most sensational Topless shows in America at their big New Year's Eve party. Topless Tara (she dances with snakes and monkeys) and Roxanne, the guy who became a gal, lead the program of merry making . . . The cozy warmth of Doran's hearth will melt the most chilling cold. The fireplace lounge of this pop Belmont restaurant is one of the most inviting for relaxing and listening to organbar entertainment . . . Where do students of the Stanford Law School go for relaxation? Last week a class of future attorneys and their professor spent an evening having broiled steaks and singing around the pianobar at Rudolfo's in Palo Alto . . . A great place to stop by after work for a bit of Christmas cheer is Jim Boasso's Kahili Hut in Belmont. You'll find it to be a haven in the "tropics."

Julio Donati

LEW LEHR'S WAS THE SCENE of the birthday dinner celebration by Tommy Harris, the well-known San Fran witster and Joynt owner. With him were his wife, Ann, son, Dr. David Harris, son, Michael and daughter, Wendy . . . Cyril DeNike, former owner of De-Nike's restaurant and bar, is one of the many regular patrons of Bruno's, San Mateo. In fact, Cyril, who was a handler of beef for over 15 years, eats steak here five nights a week — and obviously knows good meat when he tastes it . . . If you think that New Year's Eve at a swank night spot is expensive, consider this: At the Prime Rib in Palo Alto, you can enjoy choice broiled steaks, lobster tail, and prime ribs served from the silver carts—at regular prices! And the dinners start at just $4.25. There will be live entertainment from 7 p.m., and complimentary hats, horns and favors . . . For relaxation and good conversation, spiced with fine cocktails, set your anchor down in the friendly "waters" of the Cap'n's Cabin.

365 Days of Fun at The Nevada Crystal Bay Club

PLAN TO SPEND A GALA NEW YEAR'S holiday at the elegant Crystal Bay Club, located on the north end of Lake Tahoe. A grand party will be held including serpentine, hats, favors, etc. Dancing is featured nightly in the cocktail lounge to the music of The Versitones, under the direction of Ross Price. Feast on a delicious gourmet meal in the beautiful Crystal Dining Room, served at prices everyone can afford. Open all year round, Crystal Bay Club offers good highway conditions, excitement in their gaming casino, plus excellence of location for skiers or snow bunnies . . . Harvey's Resort Hotel, South Lake Tahoe, will be hosting many of its patrons in private parties this year, but will have plenty of room for the public, with a Prime Rib and Sirloin Steak buffet featured in the second floor El Dorado Room from 5 p.m. until 1 a.m. Noisemakers, hats and favors will be distributed. The fabulous music of Esquivel will be heard in the Pavilion of the Stars.

Crystal Bay Club

THE BEAUTIFULLY APPOINTED Stagecoach dining room and cocktail lounge at Stickey's of San Mateo has had a fabulous first year of operation, according to Manager Ralph Le Pinski. The restaurant, and adjacent coffee shop, features Adrian Stickey's wide selection of "western" flavored meats that have made his five other Peninsula restaurants such great favorites. Separate banquet facilities at the restaurant, which also has a private bar and dance floor, seats up to 250 people. Le Pinski says that banquet reservations are now being taken for all 1967 dates.

TOPPING THE HOLIDAY ENTERTAINMENT activities in the South Shore Room at Harrah's Tahoe and the Headliner Room at Harrah's Reno are master showman Phil Harris and Roger "King of the Road" Miller. Harris appears twice nightly through Sunday evening, Jan. 1, in the South Shore Room, while Miller has the same schedule through Jan. 4 in Reno. In the Stateline Lounge, Gaylord and Holiday and western star Judy Lynn headline the holiday entertainment program. In the Reno Show Lounge, the Kim Sisters, Maggie Peterson and the Bruce Davis Quintet, and Jo Ann Jordan top the entertainment activities . . . Las Vegas Riviera's Hotel's $200,000 Carnival ended its 10-day run Tuesday at 4 p.m. A Buick Riviera, trips to Hawaii and Mexico, plus cash, were awarded at the finale . . . Reservations were rapidly coming in for the use of the banquet rooms at the Iron Duke for festive entertaining. Don't be left out — do your holiday entertaining at this 132 Bush Street restaurant, which is continuing to attract financial district crowds.

Roger Miller

THE PUB SO-HO in Burlingame is becoming quite an attraction for celebrities. Ray Bolger was a recent visitor here and commented on the smoothness of the dance floor — and he should know. Cocktails are really the big draw — and "happy hours" are all the time . . . Music by a strolling accordionist will add a festive note to the big New Year's Eve party at Bertolucci's, the restaurant made famous by Mamma Bertolucci's Cannelloni . . . Over 20 reservations have already been received for the Blue Peacock's third annual New Year's Eve celebration, but there's still room for more. The evening's entertainments include a prime rib dinner, unlimited drinks, bowling, billiards and, of course, dancing to live music. Full price is $15 per person . . . 60 members of the Marina Tennis Club gathered at Phil Lehr's Steakery for a special dinner party in the Walnut Room . . . One of the wildest entertainment programs to ring in the New Year will be at the Cameo Club, Palo Alto. Three exotics, Senorita Carmen, Mam Zelle Bobette and Maritza Rey will wiggle on stage. Vocalist Jo Ryder will lead "Auld Lange Syne."

Ray Bolger

A FIVE COURSE DINNER FOR TWO, wine and party favors included, for $25 is creating a wave of New Year's Eve reservations at the lovely Carrousel restaurant, next to the Circle Star Theater. The elaborate special dinner will include choice of entrees such as Duck L'Orange, N.Y. Steak, Prime Rib and others. There will be dancing in the cabaret, as well as in a special dance area of the dining room, in the Mediterranean-style restaurant . . . Featured among the gala festivities planned for New Year's Eve at the Fork 'n Cork are Lobster Tail, Peppercorn Steak, N.Y. Steak and Prime Rib. Also included are four drinks and party favors . . . Still time for a New Year's Eve reservation at Nick Finocchio's famous New Ti-voli on Grant Avenue, San Francisco . . . Welcome the New Year tomorrow night with elegance and style at L'Auberge. Try one of the savory new entrees. Of course, this is the night for champagne and Crepes Suzette

Antone DeVos

1966 HAS BEEN A VERY GOOD YEAR for the Leaning Tower restaurant in South San Francisco, says Owner Joe Ercoli. Is it any wonder? What with people coming from far and near to enjoy the palatable luncheons and dinners served here. Banquet facilities are much in demand and accommodations are booked clear through the first of the new year . . . Hank Stickelmier, vice president of the San Francisco $5 million Cabana Resort Hotel, announced earlier this week that the hotel has just launched a Nationwide Sales Program. If you're interested in learning more about this revolutionary new method to merchandise hotel services, contact the Cabana's Sales Manager (327-0800) . . . Returning to the San Francisco Playboy Club for a two-week engagement is Singer Michael Dees, formerly a member of the Eddie Lawrence Trio. Michael's father is Buster Dees, a fine troubadour and former vaudeville performer who is still entertaining, in night clubs around the country.

Chase a Prowler, Catch a 'Burglar'

A San Francisco man arrested last Tuesday night in the back yard of a Diamond Avenue residence in South San Francisco was arraigned on charges of burglary, possession of narcotics and loitering on the premises of another in North

County Municipal Court
Wednesday.
Robert Walter Sjosten, 33, was taken to the San Mateo
County Jail in lieu of bail.

Sjosten was arrested about 12:15 a.m. Wednesday when Officers Norman Solari and Anthony Smith found him in the back yard of a residence after answering a call to investigate from a woman who heard a prowler around her garage.

Police said a stereo record player which was among the merchandise in the car has been identified by Terry Meg-nan, 616 Telford Avenue, as equipment taken from his garage earlier this week.

Power Failure in Pacifica

Electric power was interrupted for about an hour in the Linda Mar District of Pacifica last Friday when a runaway Pacific
Gas and Electric Company truck rolled down Crespi Drive and knocked over one of the company's poles.

Arthur D'Eteli, 1420 Crespi
Drive, an employee of the company, said he parked the P.G.
and E. vehicle, a three-quarter ton pickup, on the street in front of his home when he returned home from work about 1 a.m.

today.
D'Eteli said he was awakened about 8 a.m. by a loud crash, and when he looked out the window, the truck was not there.

He spotted the vehicle on the lawn in front of a house down the block, and saw the broken power pole, dangling wires.

About 200 homes in the area were affected by the power stoppage.

Gymnasts Take Second Place

Gymnasts sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department took second place in a meet last week in Oakland.

Members of the Daly City team were Paula Dolder, Mar-cella Dunbar, Linda Hudson,
Sylvia Hudson, Kay Hansen,
Joyce Thrush, Sue Lencione,
Sharon Kahrie and Sharon.
